*This will be our last "time change" reminder for the next few months. 🌙

Help with Holiday Eats

Passover continues until 9 April. Here's a handy carb chart!

And here's a handy carb chart for your Easter meals and candy!

Thanks to our friends at Children with Diabetes (CWD) for these great resources!

FFL Orlando Scholarship Deadline

The Children with Diabetes Friends for Life \(FFL\) Orlando conference is a vibrant, family-centered gathering where people living with diabetes (PWD and people who love them) come together to learn from experts, share experiences, and build a powerful sense of community. It's part education summit, part summer camp, part carnival and part reunion for people who understand the day-to-day realities of living with diabetes!

Members of Loop and Learn are among those who meet up at Friends For Life Orlando each July to connect in person and enjoy being among families who live with similar responsibilities, concerns, and twisted senses of humor. We even have a Loopers meetup! If you can find the time, join us there this July 7-12!

General information about Friends for Life Orlando can be found here, and you will find the event schedule, glimpses from last year, and registration links there, too.

Attendance at Friends for Life Orlando is not inexpensive, and if you find that limiting, don't turn away; scholarships are available!

Scholarship applications are currently being accepted and the period for applying ends soon, on 15 April. So check out the information links above and if a scholarship would make the difference in whether you are able to attend, get your application in!
